This Ruling was developed as part of SSA's effort to further ensure consistency in the way disability claims are adjudicated at all levels of the administrative review process.

Policy Interpretation Ruling

Title II and Title XVI: Prehearing Case Review by Disability Determination Services

Purpose: To state the Social Security Administration's (SSA) policy on returning claims pending a hearing before an Administrative Law Judge (ALJ) from SSA's Office of Hearings and Appeals (OHA) to the Disability Determination Services (DDS) for a prehearing case review when new medical evidence is submitted.

Citations (Authority): Regulations No. 4, sections 404.941, 404.944, and 404.1527(f); and Regulations No. 16, sections 416.1441, 416.1444, and 416.927(f).

Background: 20 CFR 404.941 and 416.1441 provide that after a hearing before an ALJ is requested but before it is held, SSA may, for the purposes of a prehearing case review, forward a case to the component of SSA (including a State agency) that issued the determination being reviewed. That component will decide whether the determination may be revised. These regulations provide that SSA may conduct a prehearing case review if:

1. Additional evidence is submitted;
2. There is an indication that additional evidence is available;
3. There is a change in the law or regulation; or
4. There is an error in the file or some other indication that the prior determination may be revised.

Under these rules, SSA has the authority to conduct a prehearing case review in a wide range of circumstances. However, SSA has generally used its authority to conduct a prehearing case review in limited circumstances, keeping most cases in the hearing process even when a prehearing case review would be permissible under these rules. Now, under an initiative approved by the Commissioner of Social Security in July 1996 as part of SSA's overall goal of process unification, SSA has decided to use its existing regulatory authority to reexamine selected disability claims after a hearing is requested but before it is held. This Ruling explains the policy SSA will apply in these cases.

The goal of process unification is to achieve correct, similar results in similar cases at all stages of the administrative review process. SSA's studies indicate that additional
